HOLLYWOOD WALK OF FAME

World-Famous Hollywood Walk Of Fame Immortalizes Stars

The Hollywood Walk of Fame was originally conceived in the 1950s by the Hollywood Chamber of Commerce to promote Hollywood. Since its installation in 1960, the Walk of Fame has been a superior asset to the community, perpetuating the aura that has made the name Hollywood synonymous with glamour. The Walk of Fame remains one of the city's most widely-seen tourist venues and the number one attraction in Hollywood.

More than two thousand stars, totaling five acres of coral terrazzo and brass, line the sidewalks on both sides of Hollywood Boulevard, from Gower to La Brea, and Vine Street. Stars inducted in 2006 included: Queen Latifah, Matthew Broderick, Nathan Lane, Motley Crue, Robert Osborne, Mark & Kim, Judge Judy Sheindlin, Destiny's Child, George Lopez, Lou Adler, Winnie The Pooh, Vanna White, Dan Avey, Jim Hill, Nancy Sinatra, Wink Martindale, David Milch, Stella Adler, Leonard Goldenson, Milt and Bill Larsen, Amy Grant, Bob Miller, Ruta Lee, Bruce Willis, Tim McGraw, Jerry Buss, and Annette Bening.

New stars continue to be dedicated at the rate of about two each month, with ceremonies drawing crowds of admiring fans to share the moments with their favorite stars. Presiding over the ceremonies is Hollywood's celebrity mayor Johnny Grant. Walk of Fame ceremonies, administered by the Hollywood Chamber of Commerce, attract international television coverage and are responsible for bringing millions of tourists to Tinseltown annually to see its world-famous Walk.

Can anyone imagine what Hollywood would be like without the Walk of Fame?

VISITORS & ACCOMMODATIONS GUIDE

Hollywood is back and this town has its eye on you! Whether you're a local or a tourist, single or with loved ones, on business or pleasure, staying for a weekend or longer, Hollywood has all that you are seeking.

A collage of various images related to the Farmers Market, including a clock tower, a person pushing a shopping cart, a plate of food, a person shopping, a table with food, a child eating, a man eating, a couple, a person in a red shirt, two women, a person cooking, and a group of people holding drinks.

THERE ARE OVER 3700 FARMERS MARKETS IN AMERICA.
ONLY ONE IS AN L.A. LANDMARK.

Centrally located in Los Angeles since 1934, the Original Farmers Market has always been a meeting place for locals, including entertainment industry folks from nearby Hollywood.

Great food, one-of-a-kind shops and a taste of L.A.'s Golden Age make the Original Farmers Market an L.A. icon. After all, in this town, not too many stars can stay on top for over 70 years.

Over 100 shops, restaurants, grocers, and L.A.'s best place to people watch.

The Hollywood Museum at the Max Factor Building

The building itself is worth seeing, as it is home to the birthplace of modern-day make-up. Featuring rooms specifically for “Blondes, Brunettes, and Redheads” it is where Marilyn became a blonde and Lucy became a redhead! On display you will find the set from “Moulin Rouge,” and “Silence of the Lambs,” as well as a host of gowns worn by Hollywood’s leading ladies. For museum hours of operation, call (323) 464-7776 or visit www.thehollywoodmuseum.com.

Hollywood Forever Cemetery

The oldest Hollywood cemetery and one of the most-visited final resting places. Rudolf Valentino, Douglas Fairbanks Sr., Cecil B. De Mille, Jayne Mansfield, Marion Davies, and Tyrone Power are all interred here. Tours, events and even movies take place here, all in good taste. As they say: “Only in Hollywood!” You may visit the unusual assortment of grave markers and beautiful stained glass windows by tour only. For more information, call (323) 469-1181 or visit www.hollywoodforever.com.

Hollywood Wax Museum

See your favorite stars immortalized in wax in scenes from their films. For more information, call (323) 462-5991 or visit www.hollywoodwax.com.

Hollywood Sign

One of the most recognizable images in our country and around the world, this landmark sits high atop the Hollywood Hills. It was declared a historical landmark in 1973, but it was in need of significant repair. The Hollywood Chamber of Commerce spearheaded an effort to raise the money to fix the sign in 1978. Today you can see the famous sign from Hollywood and Highland, on a tour, or by driving up into the Hollywood Hills! For more information, call Hollywood Chamber at (323) 469-8311 or visit www.hollywoodsign.org.

The Jimmy Kimmel Show

Live from Hollywood Boulevard — it’s Jimmy Kimmel Live! Celebrity guests, live musical performances and comedic irreverence make this show, airing at 12:05am (PST) on ABC Channel 7, a local icon. Located at the El Capitan Entertainment Center, the show features a live shot each night of Jimmy walking down the boulevard and into the auditorium. The public (Age 16+) is invited to reserve tickets by calling 1-800-JIMMY TIX or by going to www.1iota.com.

Pantages Theatre

Beautifully restored to its original opulence, the Pantages Theatre is a show in itself! Host of Broadway hits such as “Wicked,” “Annie,” “The Lion King” as well as some new favorites, like “White Christmas” and “Dr. Doolittle.” The Pantages Theatre caters to all audiences and is truly a gem of Hollywood, located at 6233 Hollywood Blvd. near the famous Hollywood and Vine intersection. For more information, call (323)468-1700 or visit www.BroadwayLA.org.

Los Angeles Zoo

The Los Angeles Zoo is located on a 113-acre site located in Griffith Park. Each year 1.4 million visitors pass through the gates to view a collection of 1,200 animals from around the world. Although most well known for its collection of animals, it has also become an accredited Botanical Garden with 800 different species of plants. The zoo is open daily from 10am to 5pm except December 25. For more information call (323) 644-4200 or visit www.lazoo.org.

Baja Fresh

Baja Fresh isn't your typical Mexican Restaurant. They like to keep it simple — fresh ingredients, expert preparation, clean cheerful surroundings, genuine smiles, value for the dollar, and prompt courteous service. As you walk into a Baja Fresh you're immediately surrounded by delicious fresh aromas of grilled meats and spicy vegetables, with festive music in the background. They prepare delicious dishes right before your eyes — but not before you order them. Baja Fresh is very picky in how they prepare their food. They buy the best tomatoes, onions, peppers, and spices, making their salsas fresh every day. They crush only the finest, ripest avocados for their guacamole in small batches all day long to ensure freshness. They use only the white meat of the chicken and trim all of the fat from select cuts of skirt steak. They marinate and charbroil these delicacies to absolute perfection to provide their customers with fare that not only makes their mouth water, but is also wholesome food. Baja Fresh also caters to today's active lifestyles by making everything on the menu available for takeout.

In the center of Hollywood, there is a lovely turn-of-the century bungalow serving healthy, homestyle California cuisine. The restaurant is open for lunch Monday through Friday, for Brunch on Saturday and Sunday, and for dinner every night of the week.

It was in May of 1989 that Off Vine Restaurant first opened the broad oak door of its 1908 Arts and Crafts style bungalow for business. Over the past decade, the spot has established itself as a hangout for thespians trodding the boards at the nearby Doolittle, Pantages, & Henry Fonda Theatres as well as the theatregoers who flock to see them; as a laidback power lunch hideaway for meetings between studio players from either side of the nearby Hollywood Hills, and as a genuinely romantic rendezvous oasis in the center of tinseltown. Saturday and Sunday Brunch has become something of a tradition among the cognoscenti for a casual/elegant, garden or fireside weekend treat.

ArcLight Cinema

ArcLight is where movie lovers belong. Conceived by and for people who value the art and entertainment of the moving image, ArcLight's design, amenities, service level and programming create a celebration of movies, and a more refined and complete movie-going experience. ArcLight Hollywood's 14 auditoriums begin with a "black box" design aesthetic, which favors undistracted viewing over opulence, and feature the best in sight and sound technology. Also at ArcLight is the "Cinerama Dome." Built in 1963 in a giant, white 72-ft. high geodesic style, the dome was designed to feature Cinerama – a wide-screen format of the early 60's, which used three separate 35mm projectors and a vast curved screen to present realistic travelogues. It recently has been showing popular movies utilizing the most up-to-date technology. It is also one of the most identifiable Hollywood landmarks. Each seat is individually reserved and the plush seating makes for a comfortable experience. Go to www.arclightcinemas.com/homepage.jsp to reserve seats and for more information.
